FOREWORD

Welcome to this edition of Grim's Amazing D100 Tables, and for Halloween month we present to you two titles for those of you who play your game in a Post Apocalyptic wasteland, scavenging for food, weapons, ammunition, clothing and other such items needed for survival in such a devastated environment.

Indeed, this booklet can be used for both Zombie games and any other similar survival based post-apoc RPG, in fact any game that requires the searching of abandoned places in a similar setting.

Of course, this edition is for that of useless items, so each of these found objects are deemed not fit for use in a survival setting, be they junk, broken items, personal items and other useful bits of kit.

For more options for your game, please check out the sister volume to this; 100 Useful scavenged items from a Zombie apocalypse, and 100 Useless items for all modern RPGs, available where you purchased this title.

As ever, have fun using this publication, and happy Role-playing!
