Titanshead Green

BANKS OF THE GRAND LEEVA, POTSHERD REGION

In a misty time the stone titans were buried on the plain where the great channel of the Leeva breaks apart the Red Mountains at the edge of the Potsherd Plain. There, a noble and subservient clan of great folk bonesculptors has made their homes in the heads of the dead colossi, and providing a home away from home for gentlecat travelers and adventurers.

GREAT VALLEY, WESTERN SHARDIC EMPIRE

“Ancient energies which only the immense capacities of the princely shards may handle make the Last Serai the economic motor of the Central World. Thanks to the Last Serai, we have seen sustained GDP growth of 3.1% per annum for the last 2,100 years!” —Last Serai Tourism Bureau, by approval of T.P.M.P.P.

3rd Revolutionary Museum Expedition

Brazenwelk

GURY-SOPO CLANWOOD, BEHEMOTH SHELL

The perspicacious visitor will note the archaic features of the Great Folk communes. Rough justice, but also a ready egalitarianism. Very unlike the Emeraldine Exploiters, the R.L.D. representative selling sacred water and automatics will find good cheer here.

Khusk of the Castle

FUNGAL WASTE, SOUTHERN FALLEN UMBER

The post-umbrite village of Khusk in the ruins of an Umber duchess's summer castle, overlooking a town surrendered to the spore. Elder bookfolk say the ducal seed vaults beneath the fungal infestation should still be capable of vomiting out new laborers and soldiers.

PLAIN OF HAZE, SHORES OF THE CYAN SEA

The Sky Coral Palace is a Long Ago meta-anchorite remnant first discovered by Ro Lavanzino dey E.E.K. in FY 168. The industrial arm of the E.E.K. university still seeks the source of the sky coral's antigravitism.

“Something is wrong. Mother Machine says everything is fine. But last week we lost radio after Cabbage-daughter complained the protein rations. Have the meatpeople rebelled? Why do the harvest herds laugh at our puretonium-lead weapons? What are these strange memories repeating in my head?” —depictographs and scribbles found on human parchment inside a mind-burned autogolem by Vorgo Farwaddler

Blue God's Claw

GRAND BEND, RUINS OF AZURE

The traveler will see where the alien despot formerly known as the Blue God (now referred to as XXIIIξ for simplicity) met its end at the hands of the rainbow coalition of the Greens and the Violets. Though the folded mountains are heavily scored by atomics, the unearthly vaults remain, a reminder of the need for vigilance against the spatiotemporal monsters that hunger for our vital bodily fluids!

COSMIC GIANT BONE FORMATIONS, MARMOTFOLK TERRITORIES

“We come so far and our world back home seems small. The accountant monks and butcher bankers and golem industrialists. Perhaps there is something to the old elf-tales, of moss-speaking and truth-in-matter and all-spirit. Once you see the marmotfolk coax form out of flesh and organ, you realize that there is so much we can learn here. And so profitably.” —Estimo Tamo dey Medikorp v.2
