Mission 1: If It Bleeds We Can Kill It

Mission & Narrative by - David Nordquist (MiniWarGamer Dave)

MISSION NARRATIVE: On the fringes of the Ultima Segmentum lies a frontier world called Stella Actio. On the continent of Redibo, in the jungle mountains of Securis, General Phillips deploys the expertise of an elite commando (Arnie) to rescue one of their best assets (Sly) who's been taken hostage by hostels. Local intel has reported unexplained disappearances of government leaders. Arnie's mission is to rescue Sly and help the leaders of Securis by investigating the disappearances. By doing so, this will ensure continued trade relationships with local governments and General Phillip's military forces.

MISSION OBJECTIVES:

1. Rescue Sly from hostels.
2. Eliminate hostel threat.
3. Investigate reason for disappearances and report back to General Phillips.

FORCES: Two 5 man squads of Scions.

ACTION: Arnie must perform an action at the end of his movement phase to break Sly out of his cage. When this action is completed, Sly will be usable as a character for the rest of the mission.

EXPLOSIVE BARRELS: Barrels can be shot at. They are toughness 4, 1 wound, 5+ save. If they are destroyed all models within 6" suffer an automatic str 4 ap- hit.

STEALTH MODE: Arnie and Sly may choose to attack in stealth mode. If they do they must only attack enemy units in the Fight Phase. No shooting attacks may be made otherwise their cover will be made and all enemies on the battlefield will attack them as they would normally. To remain in stealth mode, after each character moves roll a D6 and on a 2+ they remain in stealth mode. On the roll of a 1 their cover is blown.

ELEMENT OF SURPRISE: When attacking units in the Fight Phase in stealth mode characters may fight twice. In addition, add +1 to hit and to wound rolls for the first round of combat.
